The Ouban Difficulty again - Concha Overmatches McCau ley in Diplomacy—Our Relations with Spain—The Cabi-net Receives a Fresh Impulse—The Steamer Water Witch in the Waters of Paragua—Opinions of the Kinney Ex-pedition—The Mission to England—G. M. Dallas and the Presidency—The Kane Arctic Espedition.

The Onban question, which, it was supposed, was long nee at rest, is understood to be occupying much of the tention of the government. Concha has proved more than a match for McCauley, whose proceedings thus facharacterized by weakness and indecision, rendering its dealings with Cuba, it at last finds itself forced to the adoption of measures which, if resolutely maintained, cannot fail in producing favorable results. The goment has been hastened in its decision relative to Duba by the late intelligence received from Spain, which opens anew the whole of our demands upon that counary, or virtually so, as the Minister for Foreign Affairs has expressed his inability to meet Spain's obligation with the United States according to pledges given. At present, if I can judge rightly, a determination pervades every branch of the government, and a settlement of this long vexed question has been demanded, and is to be persisted in at all hazards. A few days will give us more light upon this subject.

The government, from late intelligence received does not egard with favor the conduct of the communier of the Water Witch, in his assault upon the fort of Itapiru. It would seem that a collision was sought for on our part was manifested, but without success, as was ultimately shown. Without reference to this particular case, it may be proper to remark that several cases are now in the hands of the proper department, for investigation and sattlement, showing is juries sustained by our navy, which en over anxiety for display on the part of commanders has unnecessarily brought about. It cannot but be repretted that so serious a misunderstanding as is likely to grow out of the late aftery of the Water Witch abould have transpired; but having occurred, it is the business of our government to give it an impartial investigation. If blame is found to rest with the commander, it should not be withheld from a markish sensibility of national bonor.

The Kinney Expedition is here considered as a splendid failure. Unkind things are occasionally to be heard against Col. Kinney, and one among the several going the rounds, it, that the Colonel, for reasons best known to himself, does not regret very deeply the analysances and persecutions that have of late fellowed him and his expedition. But this may be scandal wholly undeserved, and mention of it would not be made here had not the rumor become almost general in this city of seendal and faisehood.

ed, and mention of it would not be made here had not the rumor become almost general in this city of seandal and fairebood.

Among a favored few of our politicians in this city a belief exists that George M. Dallas will be offered the mission to England, and that he will accept the same. This is not not be insisted will go to the Sauth, but to whom has not yet been determined upon. For the benefit of the anxious, it may not be amiss to state that Mr. Dallas has not abandoned the belief that his charces for the next President of the United States are equal to those of any person now spoken of. Pennsylvana, his has also remark can with propriety claim the canditate; fixed by the san is cut of the way, having been seeribis place but Dallas."—of Forney, there is note to take next President is convention, a found, however, in the ability will be forced aside as unwert a but ordinary country having received its surfeit in the pendicic, the present chief magistrate, and such men only as have the confidence of the masses will be able to claim its attration. Regarded in this light, it as reasonable to presume that not even the name of Lallas will be presented—a fact which, if examined into by his friends in time, might save them both trouble and change intenset.

I have heard it we marked that the Kane expedition has been heard from by letters in the peace asion of the Department. Upon inquiry the report prove unfoamled, and mention of the rumor is made here to place on their guard those whe may have friends or interest in the expedition. Mach confidence is expressed in the success of the expedition, and many in this city regard the adventure as unrecessary, believing that Kane is affe and on his way have to the Lund, and to none mure so than to those of his own countrymen.

of the foulest conspiracy ever formed in this country against the rights and independence of a soveraige ate, she must organize immediately. If her institutions are ascred to her, and worth preserving, she must prepare berself for coming events. The fist has gone forth, and Reeder is to return to Kanses. His object has been secured, and his recent visit to this city, backed by the inducace of speculators and the Washington Union has told with fatal effect upon the President of the United States. General Pleace Seclared to day that Reeder should be sustained, let the con equences be what they may. And this was uttered with the know-ledge that a majority of his Cabinet are warmly opposed to the movement. The decision has deprived both Guthris and Pobbio, by their absence, of the beautit of their protests during the consideration of the question, which, unless they can reverse, an official separation between these gentlemen and the President is unavoidable. We fell in and communicated with the American vessel Isaac Jeanes, eight days out from Paintelphia, bound to Valencia, Spain, on the 23d of April, having been at the time inside of three hundred miles from Portsmouth, N. H., where we expected to have anchored on the 25th, as we had been sailing with a fair wind at seven knots an hour. But all our sanguine hopes had been suddenly crushed. Commodore Mayo, on reading the newspapers furnished us by the Isaac Jeanes, found several items in them stating the recent outrages committed by the Spanish authorities in the Cuban waters upon American shipping, together with the apparent intention and of the government to concentrate, as soon as possi-ble, in the Gulf, all the available vessels of war, in case of certain eventualities with Spain, determined to bear away for Havana, although we were within a few days easy sail from Portsmouth, after a two years' cruise on the coast of Africa. I suppose the Commodore has deemed this course expedient and proper, from the fact hat the Union-the government organ-gave these tatements a prominent space in its issue, and consider bg them of reliable foundation on that account, as well as from many other respectable journals having con-tained the like news. That an occasion, as this would reem to be, should occur for shaping our course for Cubs, at a time when we were so near home and friends, has been a source of peculiar mortification and disappointment to us all; but in reflecting for a moment on the very probable necessity of the case, it would appear to be the Commodore's duty to have done exactly what he has, and we have certainly no right to grumble, how-ever grieved we may feel at this apporent hard-hip—for there may be a real want for the force that this frigate will carry down, and her arrival may prove an opportune one, as in any case she will be a great addition to the United States naval force in the Cuban sea. Then judge if we are not in the atate to "tepper" these fellows. I have considered it actuable to write this to the Herato, in crief that our families and friends might be thereby in formed of our wheirabouts, and to save them the anxiety that they would otherwise test at our prolonged absence on the supposed passars to more from force of rande, as letters had been sent via England that we would sail from Forto Grande on the lat April. HAVANA, May 18, 1855.

Fateban Oviedo, a wealthy man, who has been confined in the Fonton, has been permitted to enter into very heavy had to proceed to his estates in the country, for eight days, to arrange his affairs, at the expiration of which period he is to proceed to Spain.

An order has been given that no language except Spanish is to be spoken on board the Ponton.

The arge ant and corporals of the negro companies of volunters were ordered the other day to go out and obtain necruits— "volunteers" of course.

I crossed the bay one evening last week to witness a regiment of the volunteers practice firing at a target. The target was considerably larger than a man. The distance they fired from the target was bont seventy yards; and out of more than eight hundred shots, some aften out atomy only hit the target, and not one struck within a circle of about eightern indees in diametis, which was drawn in the comire of the target.

But one of the entire regiment hell his musket properly, and old I know his name I would certainly send it. Bany of the balls extered the ground about half way to the target, which a considerable number want far helyond it. I should gones the muskets were overloaded. One kicked to everyly as to surfetch one of the gallant volunteers on the "broad of his back," at which event there was a general length.

There has been another importation of Indians from Yucasar—181 in number.

Several very heavy failunce of marchants and planters have been the fire and very recently.

Several y many manners of internants and planting has taken here in this island very recently.

Sunday being the saminemary of the birth of Francisco of Asis de Bourbon, King Consort of Spain, three "royal solutes" were fired in the course of the day, and a grand post was given to the evening at the matrix de Villa Niers, which Gen. Conchs and Jemny stiended.

A PASSENGER TRAIN SMARERD UP—NO ONE INJURED.

An accident occured on the New Jersey Railroad about two miles south of Newark, at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, by which sixty passengers were in great danger, and which will subject the company to a loss of about $6,000. It happened to the passenger train for l'hiladelphia, which left New York at 10 o'clock, and which was composed of six passenger cars. One of the axles of the tender broke, and the train was brought to axies of the tender brode, and the train was orought to so sudden a stop, that those of the six cars were entire-ly broken up, and the other three considerably injured. It is remarkable that the passengers excaped injury. Mes are eagaged clearing the track, which work will be completed this morning. There being a double track, there is no delay to travel; a single track being in use for a distance of two miles.

The error concerning the reported arrival of brig Motoor on the 10th inst, arose from the carciasaness of the person who bearted the bark Gen Jense (arrived that day from Cadie), is acading up the report of the Meteor as that of the bark. The G J had spekan the Meteor, and received her report from the captain in the expectation of the bark making per first. The supposition of a Bosteo paper that the report was that of the Kate Anderson, is an error, the latter having arrived several days before (on the 15th), and duly reported.
